DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The application file indicates that an IDS has been filed in this application, however, no such paper is in the file. It is requested that a copy of that paper is resubmitted for consideration.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to because Figures 1, 2, 4a and 5 contain unlabeled boxes (16) and (100). See 37 CFR 1.83(a). Correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 9 lacks antecedent basis for "the curl".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 3762

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 2, 7, 10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Schoenbach et al., US 6,326,177. As to Claim 11, it is inherent that the use of Schoenbach's device would include multiple body treatment sites.

Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Dorogi et al., US 5,778,894.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 3 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schoenbach et al., US 6,326,177 in view of Hofmann et al. Schoenbach et al. disclose the invention substantially as claimed less the applicator specifics in Claims 3 and 4. Hofmann teaches electroporation applicators including needle and forceps type applicators. To merely substitute any known electric field applicator for the Schoenbach electrodes would have amounted to an obvious choice in design absent any teaching of criticality or unexpected result by Applicant for the use of the specific applicators claimed.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5 and 6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Smith, II uses combinations of treatments for fat destruction. Son teaches low frequency pulses for fat reduction.
